TIPTON HIGH SCHOOL

TIPTON, INDIANA

WE LIKE IT

Summer days passed rapidly; vacation time is gone, and T.S.H. halls are filled with eager students who LIKE IT HERE.

Once again the locker doors bang shut as busy students hurry to their various classes. The usual rush for the first place in lunch line continues day after day. Old romances are rekindled, yet new loves are experienced by many. The year officially begins when the little, green freshmen are properly initiated into the youngest position at their school.

HERE . . .

In this our second year in the new Tipton High, students begin to respect the broad program made possible by a larger school. Every pupil enjoys the opportunity of choosing courses that will best serve him in years to come. An honor roll is posted for those with a 4.0 or better average at the end of each grading period. This honor roll is also posted in the local paper every six weeks.

In addition to the academic program, a wide selection of organizations and sports is offered for the development of the individual socially and physically. The large attendance at our many activities proves that the interest runs high at T.H.S. for WE LIKE IT HERE!

This "Bird's eye" view pictures the Tipton Business District and its surroundings.

IN OUR SCHOOL AND AROUND OUR TOWN

Local Presbyterian Church

Tipton County Library

Tipton County Hospital, containing modern and efficient equipment, is a great asset to people of the surrounding area.

Although Tipton is classed as a fifth class city on the basis of population, it is strictly first rate to those of us who live here. Located in the center of one of the richest farming counties in the nation, within easy driving distance of metropolitan areas, our town is ideally situated.

We have four public school buildings, either newly built or modernized, and with the exception of Jr. High all have hot lunch programs. In addition, there are two parochial schools and an Academy which attracts students from many other states.

The spacious, well-lighted business district is surrounded by a sizeable residential area with numerous churches and diversified factories being situated in zones set aside by a planning commission. The industries are served by two railroad lines, and local and interstate motor freight carriers.

A large city park, with public swimming pool and golf course, adjoins Tipton on the south. Beyond this park is located a new, modern county hospital, the county farm, and a 4-H Community Building which serves as a center for area activities.

We have a great city — and WE LIKE IT HERE.

Mrs. Apple, Tipton High's librarian, proudly accepted Tipton's first book of history, TIPTON COUNTY HISTORY, from Mr. George Cline, its local author.

Even though it's winter, Judi Lord and Harvey Harmon find a stroll in the park relaxing and refreshing.

T.H.S. Seniors enjoy themselves in a sunken garden, Cicero Creek, of ice and snow.

What happened to that "danger, thin ice" warning?

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," and the students of T.H.S. are certainly not dull! What do they do for recreation? Whether it's talking for hours on the telephone, lingering over a coke, or engaging in a friendly snow ball fight, the enthusiastic spirit of the Tipton teenager manages to keep him busy.

Our school provides many clubs in which we can take an active part, and our town provides a theatre, bowling alley, pool hall, and a Youth Center. In the summer we can take advantage of our beautiful park, with its tennis courts, basketball courts, and swimming pool.

Although Tipton is a small town, something is always happening, and one may depend on the ingenuity of our teen-agers to make something happen if it doesn't occur on its own accord.

One of Tipton's high spots of entertainment attracts this happy pair.

The corner drugstore provides refreshment for "Those who think young."

WE LIKE OUR SOCIAL WHIRL!!!

"Isn't that a great beat!" exclaims Don Lankford.

"Um-m-m, heavenly." sighs Carol Utterback.

"Get ready freshmen, here we come," shouted the mighty SENIORS at the beginning of initiation ceremonies.

THE EXCITEMENT OF "THEIR FIRST YEAR"

"Bet she wishes that food would turn to poison," remarked Larry Ripberger as Mary Purvis fed Bob Grayson during lunch.

All frosh were expected to eat with the cooking utensil which they brought — Even a strainer.

Everyone will remember the Freshman Initiation of the fall of 1962, for it was literally an initiation to end all such initiations at Tipton High School. The Seniors had worked and planned on their skirts and paddles to get ready for the big day. Hazing of Freshmen began on the way to school and continued on a minor scale in the halls throughout the day, but the big moment arrived when Freshmen and Seniors were let out of school the sixth period for the "formal" ceremonies on the football field.

All Freshmen were divided into six groups and were taken through the several events. Chasing the greased pig was the most popular event while it lasted; that is, while the pig lasted. In the evening the Seniors sponsored a dance for the Freshmen who, however, came through the afternoon's activities in fresher form than the Seniors.

"Wow, is this ice cold!" screamed Sandy McCullough while John Holloway ruthlessly took her through initiation.

IS ENJOYED BY MANY FRESHMEN AT T.H.S.

"Ha, ha, missed my eye," teased Jennifer Wiggins during initiation ceremonies.

"When we say lie down we mean lie down," shouted Judi Lord to some stubborn frosh.

HOMECOMING

Drum Major Wayne Rose leads the band as the Homecoming parade officially begins.

"History Repeats Itself" was the title of the winning float designed and decorated by the sophomores.

The juniors won honors as second place winner in the contest with their clever and original float.

ACTIVITIES ENTHUSE AND INTRIGUE

Queen Andrea Barrum (center) and her court Deane Garmon, Kathy Sebert, Nancy Pore, and Annie Bowers were the 1963 beauties of this year's Homecoming Festival.

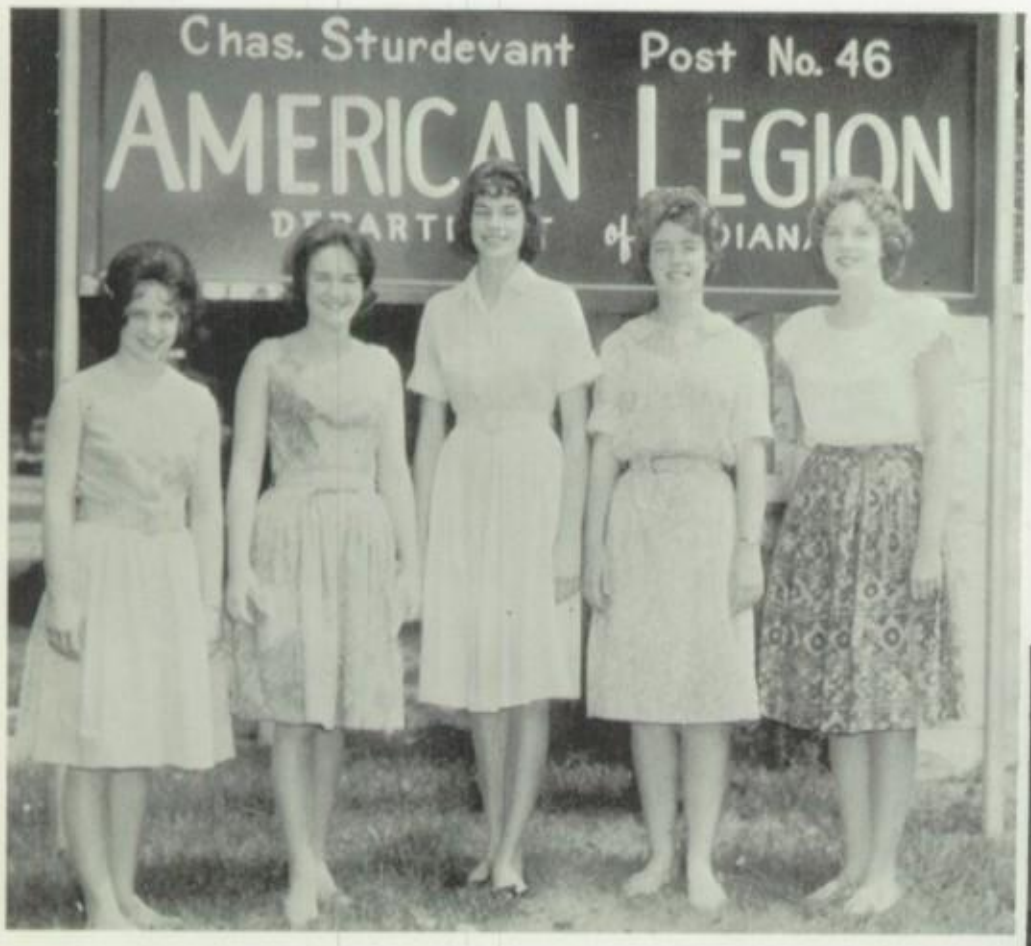
Every year Student Council sponsors the Homecoming Festival which starts the school season in full swing. Many girls dream of, but few attain, the eminence of reigning as Homecoming Queen or of serving on her court. The football players make the nominations; then the student body elects the lucky girl.

Homecoming is not just a school event; it is a community project. Most of the service clubs, sororities, and many businesses make the floats which join the student floats in the parade. Many of Tipton's citizens line the streets to watch.

When our team wins its game, as it did this year, the students go on to the Victory Dance to greet the old grads in the best of high spirits, and the big day is complete.

Entering the field is Queen Andrea smiling radiantly as she begins her reign over the Homecoming activities.

TOP HONORS ARE AWARDED TO RECIPIENTS



Representing Tipton High this summer at Hoosier Girls' State were: Nancy Pore, Andy Barrum, Sandy Durham, Carol Utterback and Claudie Surber.

Reviewing what they learned at Hoosier Boys' State are: Bill Gossard, Don Lankford, and Don Havens.

Our Vice-Principal, Mr. Edwards, is shown congratulating Pam Smith and Elroy Schulenburg for their outstanding achievement at the Honor Awards Banquet.

FOR ABILITY AND PARTICIPATION

"Only a few more questions to go." sighs Andy Barrum as she completes her exam for the D.A.R. Good Citizenship Award.

Learning about the operation of our government is of vital importance if we are to become effective community leaders. The students who went to Girls' and Boys' States appreciated the opportunity of participating in model local and state governments, and the honor of representing Tipton High School.

This year, for the first time, an awards banquet was held for all those students who held an index of 4.6 or higher. Since scholarship is the foremost reason we attend school, our principal felt there should be more recognition given to the top scholars. The banquet was a success and it is expected to become a tradition at Tipton High.

Two of our seniors received individual recognition, one for being a good citizen, and one for being an accomplished musician. We are very proud of Andy and Wayne for their achievements.

Being able to spend a month in Europe was the cause for Wayne Rose's smile as he receives his acceptance to the School Band of America from band director, Mr. Good.

"HAWAIIAN HOLIDAY" LINGERS

The rippling waterfall pictured in the distance set the scene for a "Hawaiian Holiday."

Reigning over the festivities were Dan Shaw and Loretta Odle with their court, Betty Biltz, Jim Garmon, Jim Long, and Judy Gibbons.

The music of the Lafayette Jeff. band provided the atmosphere for a beautiful evening in Hawaii.

After crossing this bridge one stepped into an Hawaiian dream land.

The unique decorations, grass mats and hurricane lamps, set the scene for the Luau.

After visiting an enchanted Hawaiian land, the evening came to a close, too soon, with a relaxing Luau.

IN MINDS OF THE STUDENTS

Most Tipton students had never experienced a "Hawaiian Holiday" until prom time last spring. As a tribute to our 50th State, the Juniors labored many months to create an evening under Polynesian skies. The 4-H Building was turned into a wonderland of palm trees, grass shacks, and waterfalls. Sophomore girls, looking like native wahines, served cookies, sandwiches, and punch from a shell bar. The crowning of the king and queen climaxed the dance.

At the Diana Theater students viewed the movie "Gidget Goes Hawaiian" through the courtesy of the management, and then everyone flocked to the school cafeteria where they enjoyed a Luau breakfast, through the courtesy of their hard working parents. The evening was a great success and everybody went home tired but happy.

Dancing enlightened the fantasy that was felt at the Junior and Senior Prom of 1962.

Here you see what all the "mad rush" is about during the noon hour of the hard, long day.

Our gracious cooks are preparing lunch with their excellent equipment and knowledge.

SERVICE IS THE MOST IMPORTANT PRODUCT

"And you think you have wash day problems!" sighs Mrs. Ross.

Keeping our school shiny and clean is a full time job, and our maintenance crews are to be commended for the excellent work they do. Without their efforts, our beautiful new school building would soon lose its luster.

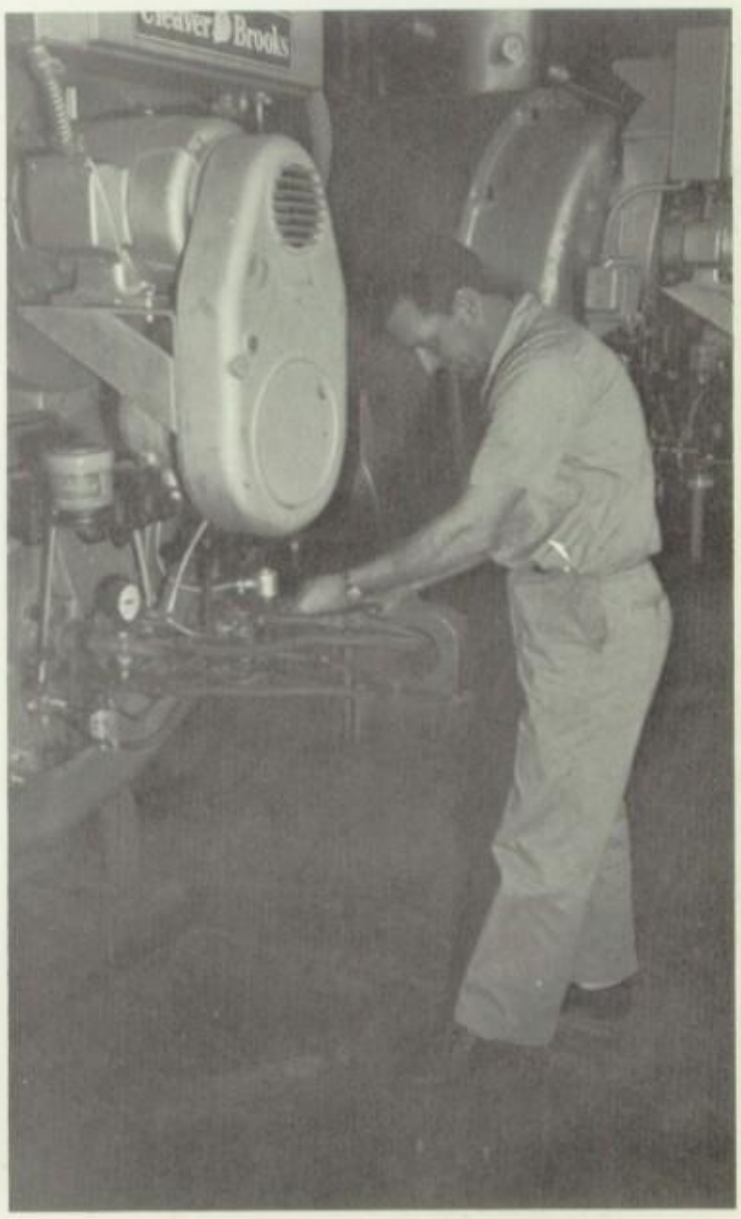
The quickest way to a teenager's heart is through his stomach, and the cooks regularly endear themselves to the students every lunch period. Through their efforts every student at T.H.S. had at least one sumptuous dinner at Thanksgiving and Christmas time. In this, the second year of our cafeteria's operation, the difficulties of the first year have been ironed out, and a wider selection of food has been offered, much to our students' delight.

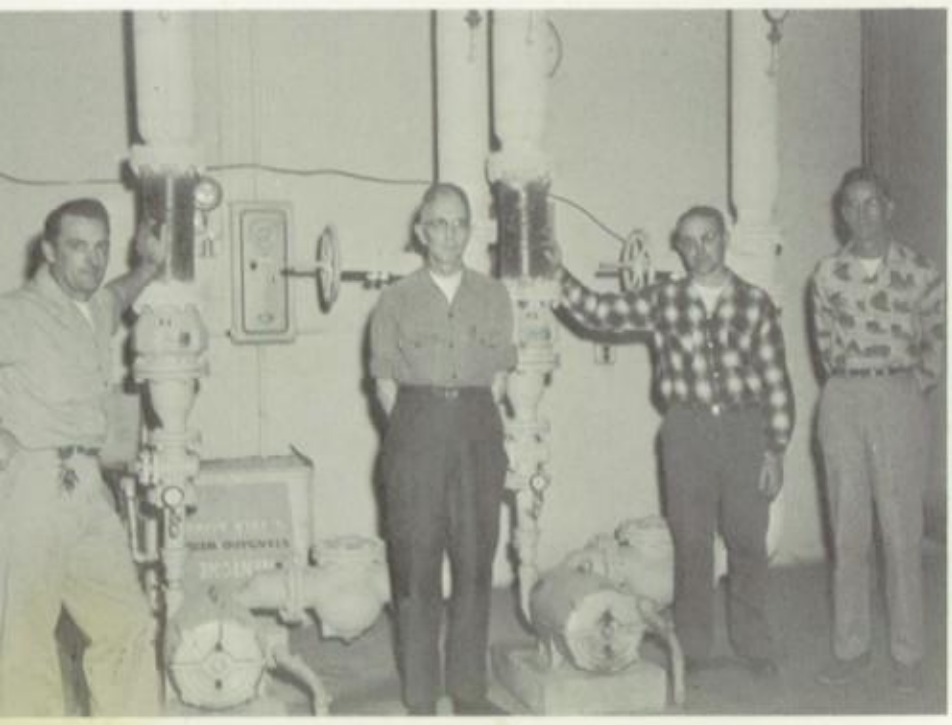
The safe transportation of our out-of-town students to and from school is a vital service. We are grateful to the capable and responsible men who are on the job, morning and evening, each day of the school year.

Tipton High's Bus Drivers this year were: STANDING L. Powell, E. Rode, M. Day, E. Sottong, W. Phifer, S. Durham. KNEELING B. Henry, E. Henry, A. Smeltzer, B. Day, C. Hoover.

"Tipton High School, Jim Riley, Maintenance Engineer, speaking."

Mr. Powell adjusts the temperature gauge to meet the demands of the changing weather.





Working long hours on an endless job are E. Powell, J. Holloway, B. Morris, and U. Brooks.

Academics

THE ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF STRIVES

Discussing school problems are Principal, Mr. Jones; Assistant Principal, Mr. Edwards; and Guidance Director, Mrs. Moore.

Assisting the faculty and students in the office are Miss Judy Ley and Mrs. Dixie Gathman.

Under the leadership and guidance of the Principal, the students and faculty willingly co-operate to make T.H.S. an outstanding institution of learning.

Hectic are the days of the secretaries, but they efficiently carry out duties in the office and give aid and information to students.

In his executive position the superintendent of schools holds the responsibility of seeing that the academic standards of Tipton schools remain high and that the school system functions smoothly.

School board members freely give their time to discuss the problems of school policies, planning, and finance.

TO STRENGTHEN SCHOOL STANDARDS

Superintendent Charles Wisehart

Working in the Superintendent's office were Mrs. Enneking and Mrs. Balser.

Members of the School Board this year were: Mr. Harry Reasner, Mr. Cornelius Fox, Mr. Ward Riffe, Mr. Robert Woods, Mr. Ray Bower, and Mr. Charles Wiseheart, Superintendent.

FACULTY PAVES WAY TO HIGHER EDUCATION

Although a teacher spends most of his hours in the field of instruction, there are many other facets of his busy life.

Outside of school, faculty members teach night classes, chaperone at dances, sell tickets at games, sponsor clubs and classes, and participate in church and civic activities.

During summer vacation, teachers of T.H.S. may be found with their families, traveling, attending graduate courses, or teaching at summer school.

Our teachers have commanded the respect and admiration of the student body for their competence, service, and interest in the achievements of students.

Members of the school staff participate in extra-curricular activities such as selling tickets at home football games.

By sitting at the front of the cafeteria, the faculty can keep an eye on the students as they enjoy their lunch.

STUDENTS PONDER THE WORLD'S PROBLEMS

A panel discussion is being demonstrated in sociology class featuring Rose Bowers, Kip Kinder, David Howery, and Pat Patterson.

Sandy Durham and Mike Regnier study several folders on topics which are discussed daily in economics class.

History began with primitive man and has become more valuable to mankind from year to year. Without a past there would be no future; for this reason 435 students in Tipton High are taking history courses.

Juniors are enrolled in United States History courses, a must for graduation, while Seniors gain the knowledge of the whys and wherefores of our national government from a detailed study in Government and in Economic Problems.

The newest addition to this curriculum is Sociology. This is the study of man in his personal environment and his quests and conquests in our vast and conflicting societies.

Observing other countries is demonstrated by Vici Crull in world history.

SCIENTISTS PROBE MYSTERIES OF UNIVERSE

"Wonder what it does?" sighs Sandy Green as Mr. Walters explains geometric figures to his class.

"Will it hurt?" wonders Carol Welsh as Connie Netherton and Mike Pickett type her blood.

x+y=z is one of the many equations which these algebra students must master.

AS MATHEMATICIANS SOLVE THEIR PROBLEMS

With greater emphasis on science and mathematics, Tipton High has attempted to stress this area and prepare to cope with the challenging demands the scientific future offers them.

In the science area students learn and experiment in modernly equipped classrooms and laboratories. They may take courses in chemical, physical and biological sciences in order to prepare themselves for whatever the future holds.

Knowledge in mathematics is an essential tool in today's world, and the T.H.S. students may decide to take such courses as algebra, geometry, advanced math and trigonometry.

"It will never work!" exclaims Bob Kurtz while Pat Rench struggles through a physics experiment.

With concentration like Annie Bower's, Mike Hoover's, and Linda Hart's, the Russians will never win.

STUDENTS ARE CONSTANTLY INCREASING

Tom Mason and Miss Slater exchange greetings in a Spanish practice session.

The bulletin board in Latin class adds an interest to the lessons.

In our shrinking world of today, it is imperative for people to communicate with one another. Along with public speaking, Tipton students can choose between Latin and Spanish to meet their foreign language requirement in the academic curriculum. While no longer generally spoken, Latin forms the basis of all Romance languages.

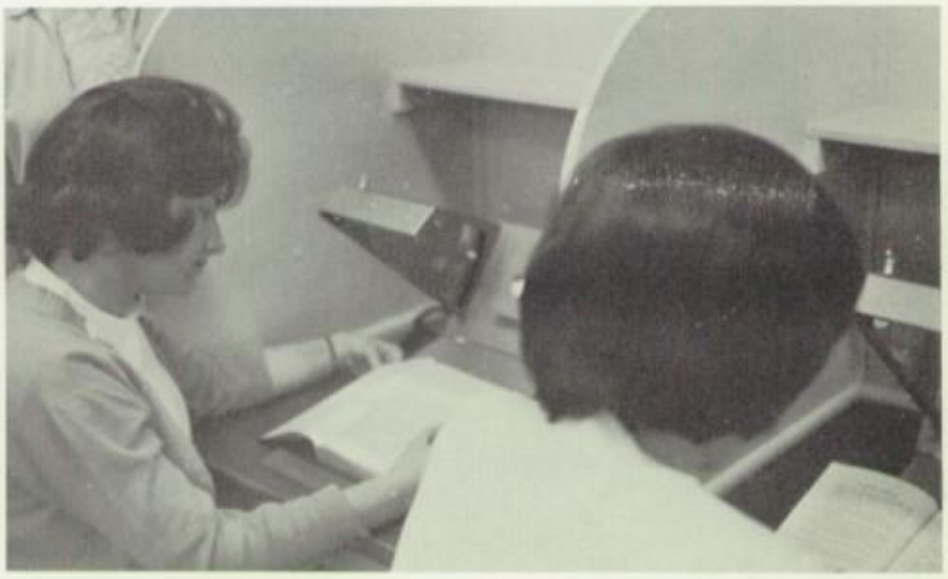
Many special reports on the Roman Empire are discussed in the Latin classes, and the last six weeks of this course are spent getting a brief introduction to Greek. The Spanish classes have been striving to make their subject more conversational, while they learn the customs of Central American countries.

"How much longer?" wonders Pat Patterson as he presents his first speech of the year.

THEIR KNOWLEDGE OF THE MANY LANGUAGES

Interest is shown as literature classes read their texts.

By using the shadow scopes Andy Barrum and Linda Evans increase their reading speed.



The purpose of our English classes is to increase the ability of students to use English effectively and appropriately. The curriculum includes oral and written expression, listening, usage, grammar, reading, and literature understanding. Particular emphasis is being placed on vocabulary and composition.

Since reading is a functional part of all school activities, our Developmental Reading Laboratory is used to further reading skills and techniques. Reading improvement is a course in which the student competes with himself and identifies his own progress as he becomes a more proficient reader.

Seniors find it easy to concentrate on their books in reading lab.

COMMERCIAL CLASSES TEACH "BIG BUSINESS"

The Business Education Department is a major center of activity in Tipton High School. Its classes are attended not only by the stenographers, bookkeepers, and secretaries of tomorrow, but by those who feel the need of basic business skills to round out a general education.

The ability to type with a reasonable amount of speed and accuracy is useful to everyone, and has become a necessity for college bound students.

Besides typing, a varied amount of commercial courses are offered to aid in the development of a better student.

Does everyone always look this busy in typing class?

"Now which button shall I punch?" questions Nancy Graf.

Kathy Sebert diligently practices her shorthand.

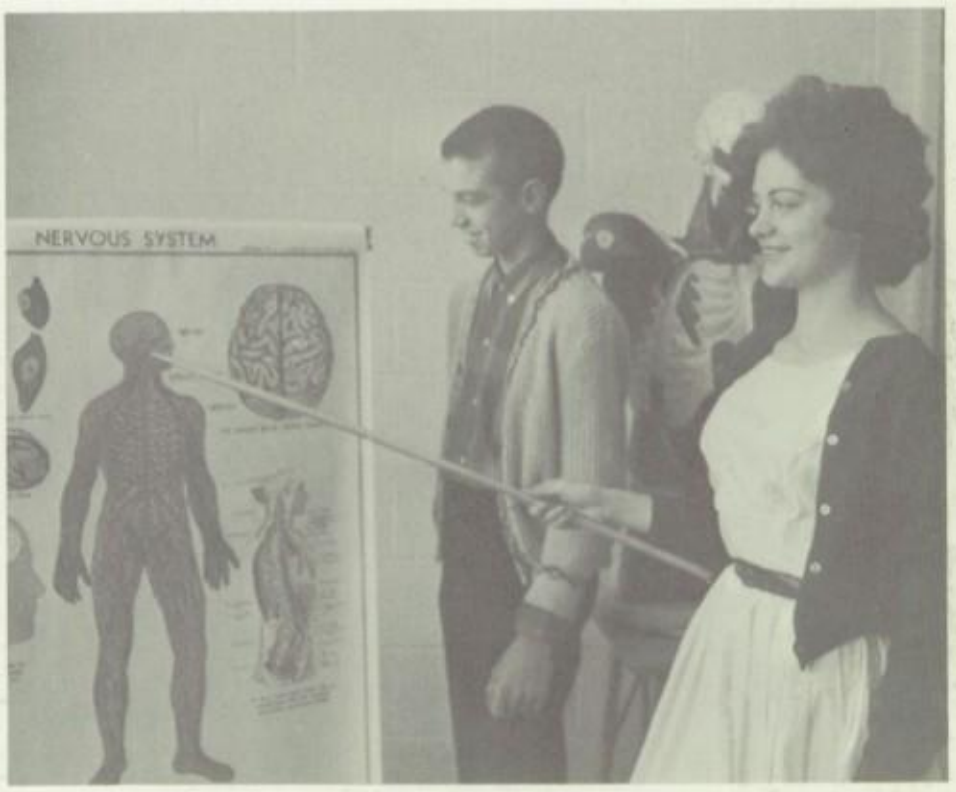
"Now this is the way Robin Hood did it," Mr. Moses patiently explains to Alan Keifer.

A swing and a miss by Lois Lambert.

STUDENTS LEARN MENTALLY AND PHYSICALLY

Physical Education, though the oldest form of education, is one of the newest subjects in our curriculum. In our gym classes the students engage in such sports as ring toss, volley ball, basketball, and archery.

Since one semester of health and two of physical education have been required of every high school graduate in Indiana, a knowledge of the practices which lead to health, the improvement of physical skills, the experience of team play and competitive games are indispensable to the development of a well-rounded individual.



"Just like mine!" exclaims Jeannie Stacey.

CLASSES LEARN MANY VOCATIONS WHICH LAY

Food preservation is demonstrated by Helen Butz in home economics.

Vocational training is an integral part of the Tipton High School curriculum. Classes in all facets of shop work, agriculture and home economics are available to the student who decides to elect a course or major in the area.

Girls have the opportunity to prepare themselves in the home arts and gain skills in cooking, sewing and household procedures.

Boys may learn any one of ten different trades in the industrial arts area and be prepared to work in this area following graduation.

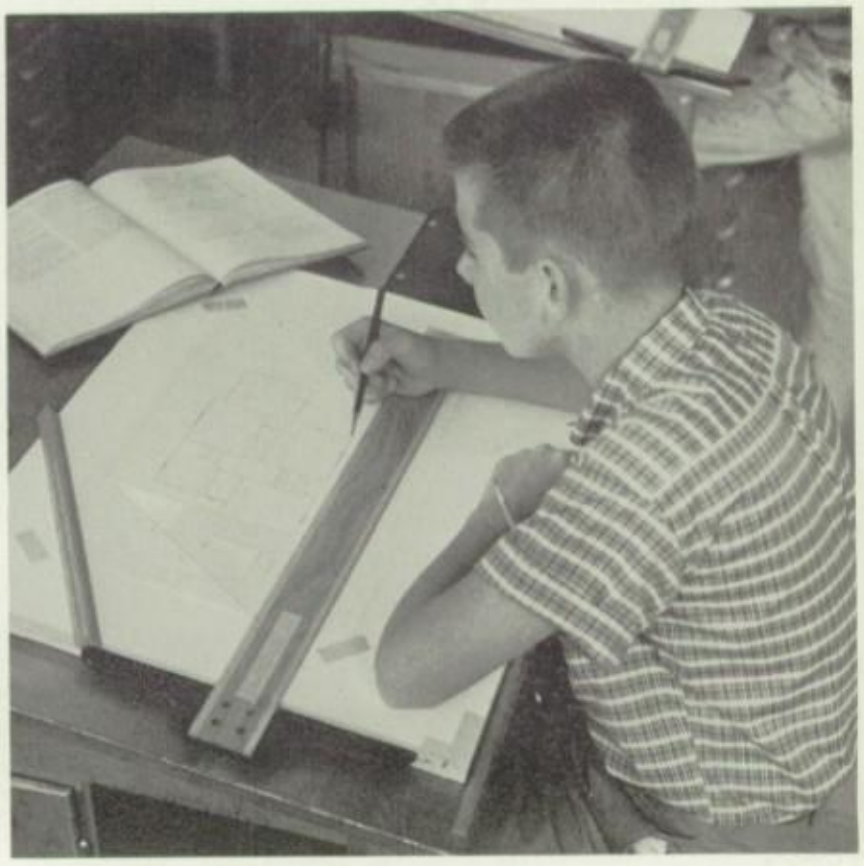
"After the hem is in, this dress is finished," sighs La-Mona Hoover, as Mary Garmon and Rita Askren help her complete her home project.

FOUNDATIONS FOR THEIR FUTURE LIVES

Concentration is needed by Roland Beatty as he cuts a board for a shop project.

Pressing and cutting library passes is one of the many jobs that Darst Jacobs performs in his printing class.

Many of our future designs will depend on students, such as Dan Clabaugh, learning basic principles in mechanical drawing.



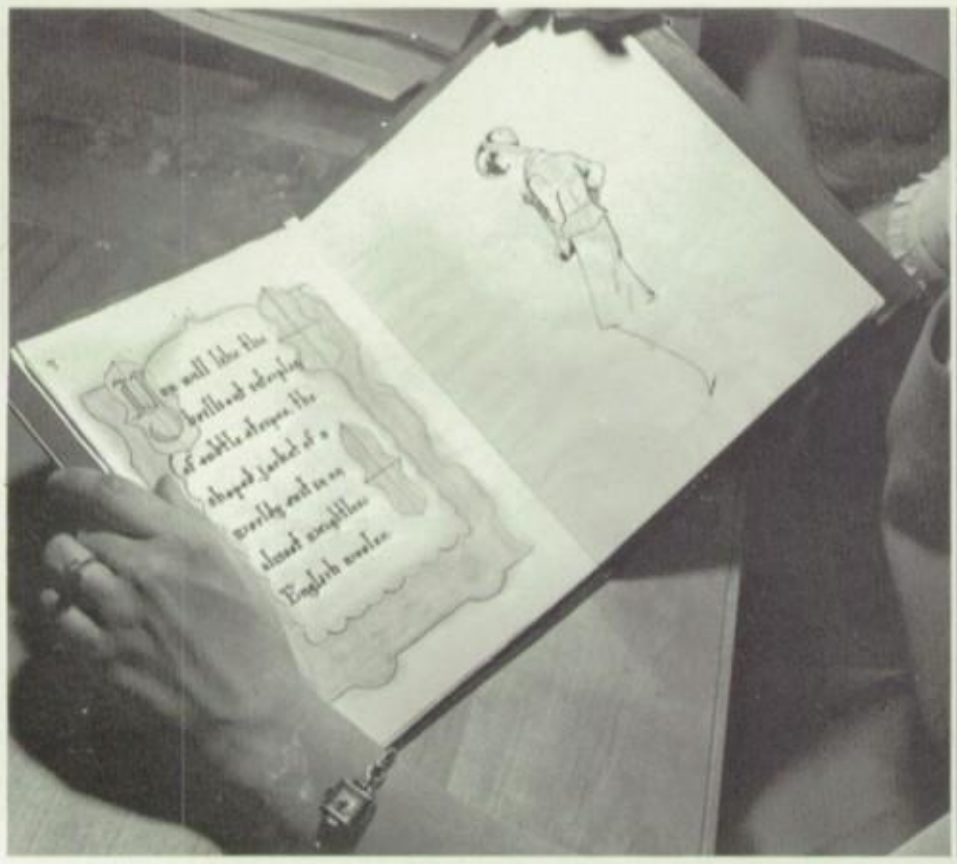
Entertainment is provided for organizations around town by giving hits of the "Roaring Twenties."

The modern form of the Charleston was illustrated by Bob Kurtz.

FINE ARTS PROVIDE BEAUTY

The chorus classes are constantly at work producing bigger and better productions.

This dancing quartet also portrays the "Roaring Twenties" classics.



The art classes made booklets using their knowledge of good lettering.

Designing covers for their booklet made for a more attractive piece of work.

AND ENJOYMENT FOR ALL STUDENTS

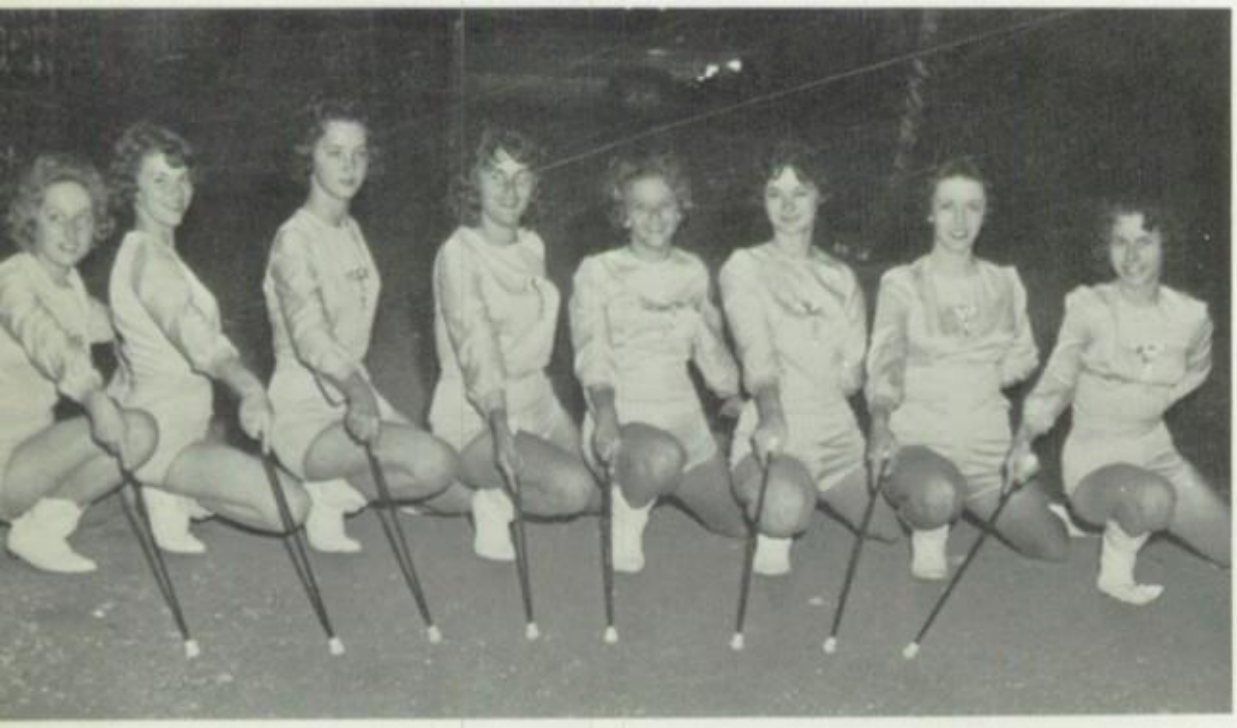
"Music is the universal language," and the students in the chorus classes are doing their best to learn this exciting and colorful form of exaggerated speech. This year a greater number of students turned out for chorus than in previous years. Under the direction of a new music teacher, the students have been learning the fundamentals of theory and harmony. A Christmas program was presented to the student body and a spring program to the general public. The obective has been serious music simply presented. This has been a building year in the chorus and we're expecting bigger and better things from this department in the future.

The art classes also have a new teacher who, among other things, has taught them the basic principles of good lettering. Their projects have included mosiac work and compiling a booklet of art.

Much time and effort was spent by John Wright in making this beautiful mosiac.

EVERYBODY HAS RHYTHM AS THE BAND GIVES

TIPTON HIGH



"Smile," says camera man John Lane, as he snaps a picture of our saluting majorettes.

"Presenting the Tipton High School Band" was a familiar introduction as the band marked off many excellent half-time shows for football and basketball.

During the marching season the band was highlighted with new accessories to their uniforms. These were displayed at the Purdue Band Day and the Kokomo Christmas Parade.

CONCERT PRODUCTIONS AND SPORTS SPECIALS

SCHOOL BAND

Many responsibilities were taken over by a new band manager who was of great assistance to the director during all the special performances and with the "odds and ends."

The spring concert, band carnival, and District Solo and Ensemble Contest were a few activities which made this another successful year for the T.H.S. band.

A crowd gathers to watch the band march in the Homecoming parade.

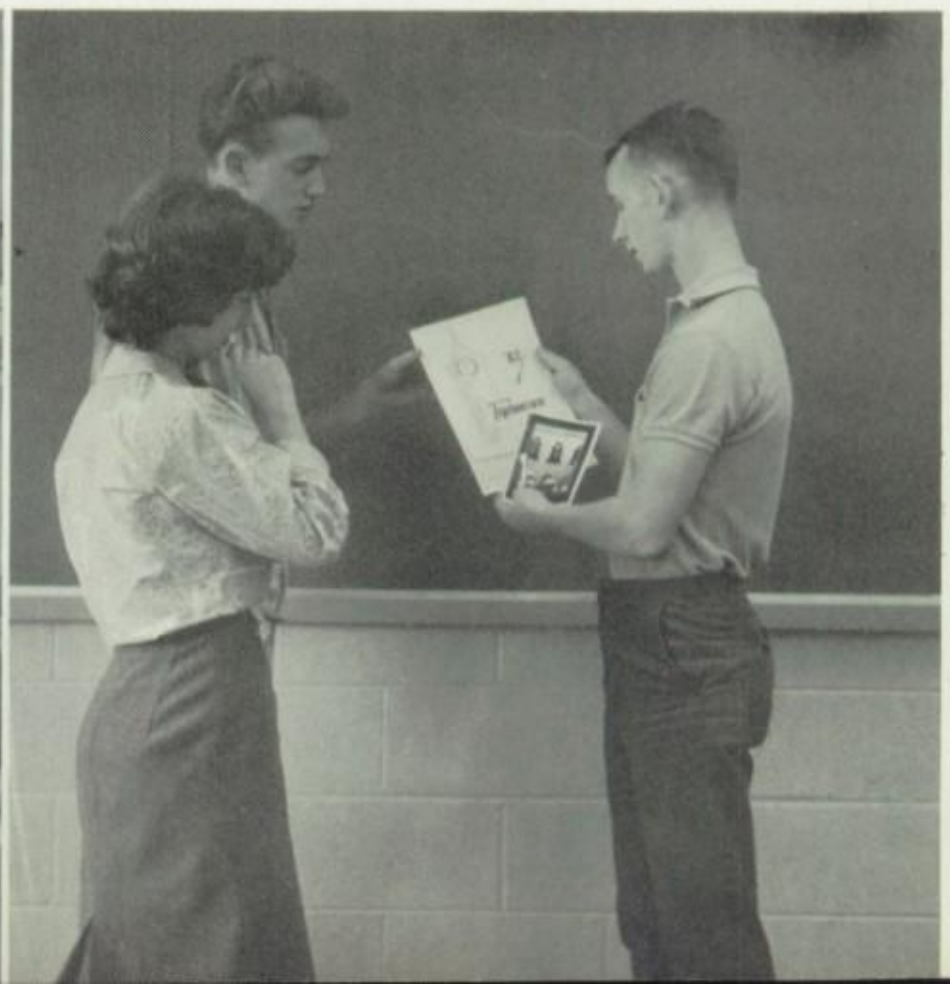
ANNUAL STAFF STRIVES FOR A BANNER YEAR

To crop a picture to fit a layout is an art within itself, agrees Andy Barrum, Carol Utterback, and Linda Evans. Art work is illustrated by John Lane, John Wright, and Martha Sweet.



Two weeks last August Editor Carol Utterback and Senior Editor Andy Barrum attended I.U. Journalism Workshop, gaining skill and information to help them publish a bigger and better yearbook.

Every fifth period staff members were found struggling diligently to meet their deadlines —arranging pictures, writing copy, laying out pages and selling ads. Guided by the American Yearbook Company representative, Mr. White, the staff looked foreward to another successful banner year.

These members show that writing, typing, and proof-reading are necessary assets in making an annual.

By reviewing the past annuals, the staff formulates new ideas.

Drawing layouts is a job that requires much time and patience.

In order to catch-up on the latest news, Bob Grayson intently reads the "Devil Doin's."

Every fifth period the Devils Doin's Staff was constantly busy trying to keep the students of T.H.S. informed of the current and most interesting events in and out of school. All members of this year's staff were enrolled in Journalism Class.

Techniques of putting a newspaper together were observed by the members at workshops held at Franklin College, Ball State Teachers College, and Chicago, Illinois.

The main goal of this year's staff is more organization and co-operation. With new facilities and more equipment, the staff is looking forward to a more prosperous year.

The Librarian's Club is composed of girls who give of their time to work in our library. They were responsible for checking library passes, as well as assisting the school librarian in many ways.

The Projectionists Club is composed of boys who are skilled in the art of working with films and sound equipment. Through their efforts many classes were able to have audio-visual aids.

HONOR SOCIETY SYMBOLIZES IDEAL STUDENT

The National Honor Society is the most prestigious organization in T.H.S. Its members are those upperclassmen deemed by the faculty to be most outstanding in leadership, scholarship, service, and character. Ten per cent of the junior class are honored with membership in the spring each year, and another five percent of the seniors are added to this group in the fall.

Honor Society has two meetings monthly, one at school, the other in the evening at the home of a member. Enlightening discussions on serious current topics are held at these meetings.

New initiates enjoy a tea after honor program.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT — FUTURE INHERITANCE

Student Council is the governing body of the school, in which students have a voice through their representatives. It is an honor to be a member of the council and a responsibility to help in the bettering of our school.

The fall Homecoming Festival is the Council's most exciting project of the year. The Council provides six programs annually, giving a break in the routine of school life. The Student Council has a foreign exchange program which is financed by the operation of the Book Store.

New paper-back books are used by Kip Kinder and Jeff Hoover as they search for an English novel.

Students become eligible for membership in the Science Club by carrying out a special scientific experiment on their own initiative.

In the fall, members visit the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago. The goal of members of the club is to have an exhibit displayed in the Science Fair in the spring.

F.B.L.A. FOSTERS COMMERCIAL PROGRESS

Future Business Leaders of America was founded to encourage young people to enter the field of business and to develop competent and aggressive leaders in this field.

Projects of the year have been a window display representing the business department during National Education Week, a Christmas card sale, and participation in the national project "Operation Econ."

Business leadership is explained by F.B.L.A. members during installation.

"Practice makes perfect" is the motto of this hard-working quartet.

Auditions are held early in each school year for students wishing to become members of Junior Musicale. All members must be able to appreciate music and to play an instrument or sing well. The planning and presentation of a program for an evening meeting is an obligation of each individual.

Other activities of the year included a Christmas party, a spring program for the Matinee Musicale, a tea for the mothers of members, a trip to North Central High School in Indianapolis to see the opera "La Boheme," and a farewell banquet for the senior members of the club.

WITH ACTIVE PARTICIPATION

Dramatics Club is composed of students who have an interest in the theater. While participating in this club, the members discovered that there is much more work in giving a pleasing performance than meets the eye of the audience. The backstage crews greatly increase a programs power to entertain with lighting, costumes, and special effects. This year Dramatics Club presented two-one acts plays and worked on the Senior Play.

Thespians members practice on a play directed by Mr. Jones.

The Girls' Athletic Association brings girls together for the enjoyment of games. Members earn points through participation in sport activities which count toward sweaters, letters, and placques. Annual events are the Valentine Dance, the "sleep-out," and the banquet for seniors at the close of the year.

The T-Men's Club is composed of boys who have won a varsity letter for participation in a major sport in inter-school competition. A trip to Chicago is financed through after-game dances and a hamburger fry. The T-Mens make themselves useful around the school, with emphasis on athletics.

Pep Club is the largest club in T.H.S. Its purpose is to promote school spirit and to encourage the teams. The club holds frequent pep sessions to keep enthusiasm at a high pitch throughout the sports seasons. It arranges bus transportation for students to out-of-town games.

The Pep Club goes all out to make the Homecoming Festival a success. It offers awards for posters, it helps decorate the school and the down town area, and it enters a float in the parade.

Fans board the pep bus, bound for another "Devil Victory."

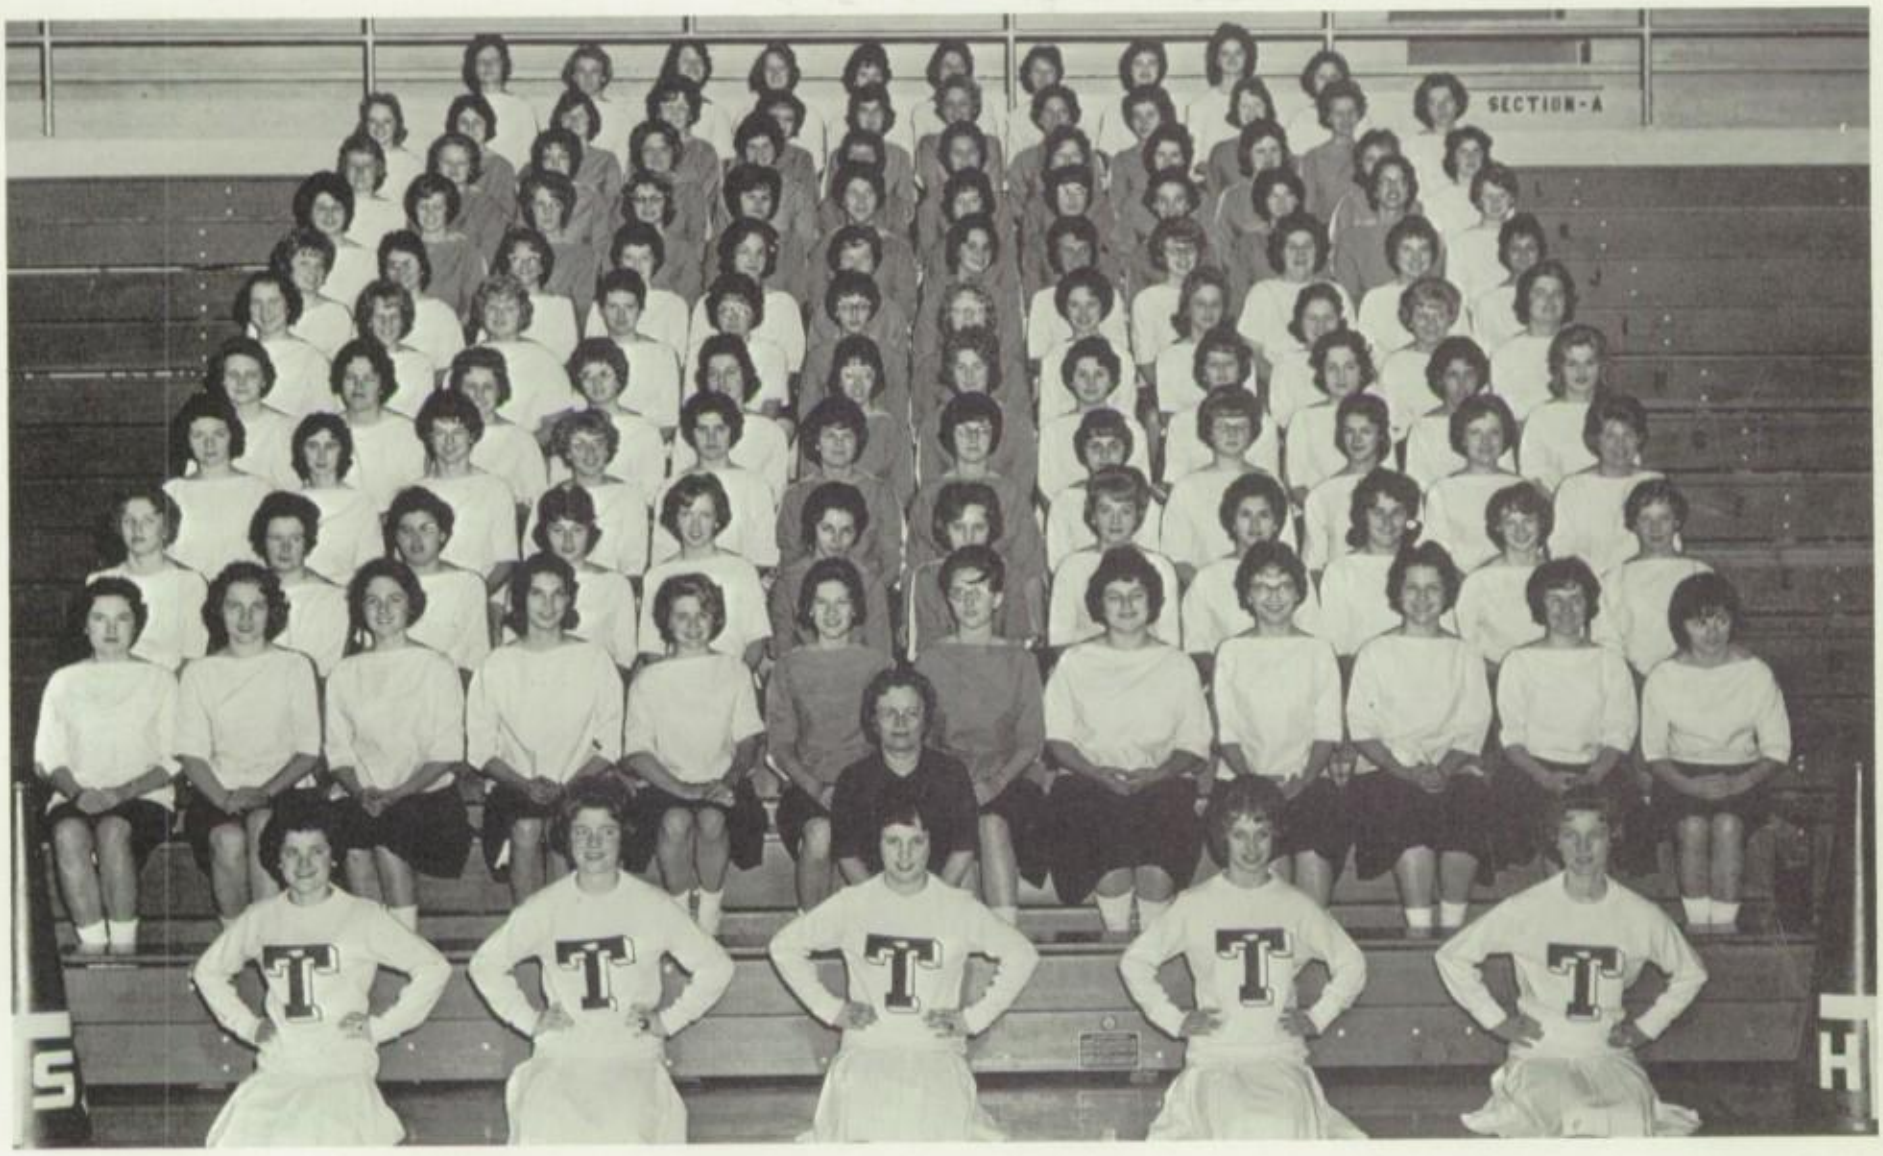
TEAMS WITH ENTHUSIASM AND SPIRIT



GIRLS' CHEERBLOCK

Throughout the basketball season, the 120 staunch Blue Devil backers in the Tipton High School Girls' Cheerblock did their best to let the boys on the team know they were behind them.

Unlike many other yellblocks, the Tipton section did much more than just make noise. Every Thursday evening after school for one hour the girls practiced letters, hand motions, songs and new cheers.

In the fall the Varsity yell leaders attended a cheerleading conference in Bloomington, where they were taught the new style of cheering, "cut and dried." With formations precise and yells up to date, the Tipton Cheerblock was one of the most outstanding in the Central Indiana Conference.

Nothing, not even snow, keeps a true golfer away as shown by Seniors Kip Kinder and Darst Jacobs.

The boys on the golf team started practicing for their spring meets early in the year. This sport, stressing courtesy and sportsmanship, has a great appeal for the boys on its team.

Tennis, although classified as a minor sport, is a major source of recreation to those who play the game. Along with golf it can be enjoyed through the summer months.

1962 was a building year for the Tipton High School Cross Country Team. Although their season's record wasn't too outstanding, the boys were hard working and conscientious. With the underclassmen improving steadily, we expect to have one of the top three conference teams next year.

EIGHT VALUABLE GRIDMEN TO BE GRADUATED

This year's football team, through hard work in practice and desire, achieved a laudable record of 8 wins and 2 losses. Losing only to Huntington and Alexandria, the Devil gridmen gained a CO-Championship berth in the Central Indiana Conference.

But this team could not have been what it was without the superior coaching of John Moses. He brought Tipton High School the prestige of having the C.I.C. "Coach of the Year" as its head football coach.

Although we will lose eight prime players through graduation we can expect an equal if not better season next year with the returning lettermen and reserves.

KOKOMO VICTORY BREAKS 21-YEAR JINX

Coach Barr and Assist. Coach Moses.

The mighty Spartans have swept over the courts of North Central Indiana in a winning fashion. The 59 — 56 Kokomo contest broke our twenty-one year record of losses, while a trip to Wabash scored another long-awaited victory.

A visit to the Lafayette Holiday Tourney, in which we placed second by only two points, placed us high in recognition.

Thus far the mighty Devil B-Team had an undefeated season which showed a spectacular squad. These boys, along with the Freshmen, will compose a sharp-shooting and confident future varsity.

Larry Feighthner leaps to better the previous mark in the broad jump.

As champions of the C.I.C., the Blue Devil track team was literally at the top of the field last year. A great working attitude combined with athletic ability won victories in the Kokomo Relays and many dual meets. Several outstanding individuals on the team had the honor of participating in the sectional track and field contests.

With a new coach this year and a new field, which we have wanted for a long time, we are looking forward to a successful season this spring. We are now able to have our own home track meets, and many more of our fans will be able to see the Blue Devils in action.

After receiving the all-important baton, Bill Gossard races on to victory.

Hurdler Don Lankford takes the lows in perfect stride.

Mike Kurtz wings over the bar at 5 feet 7 inches with ease at a scheduled meet with Peru.

A blaring jukebox always makes for a lively crowd.

It only takes a line dance to work up a healthy appetite.

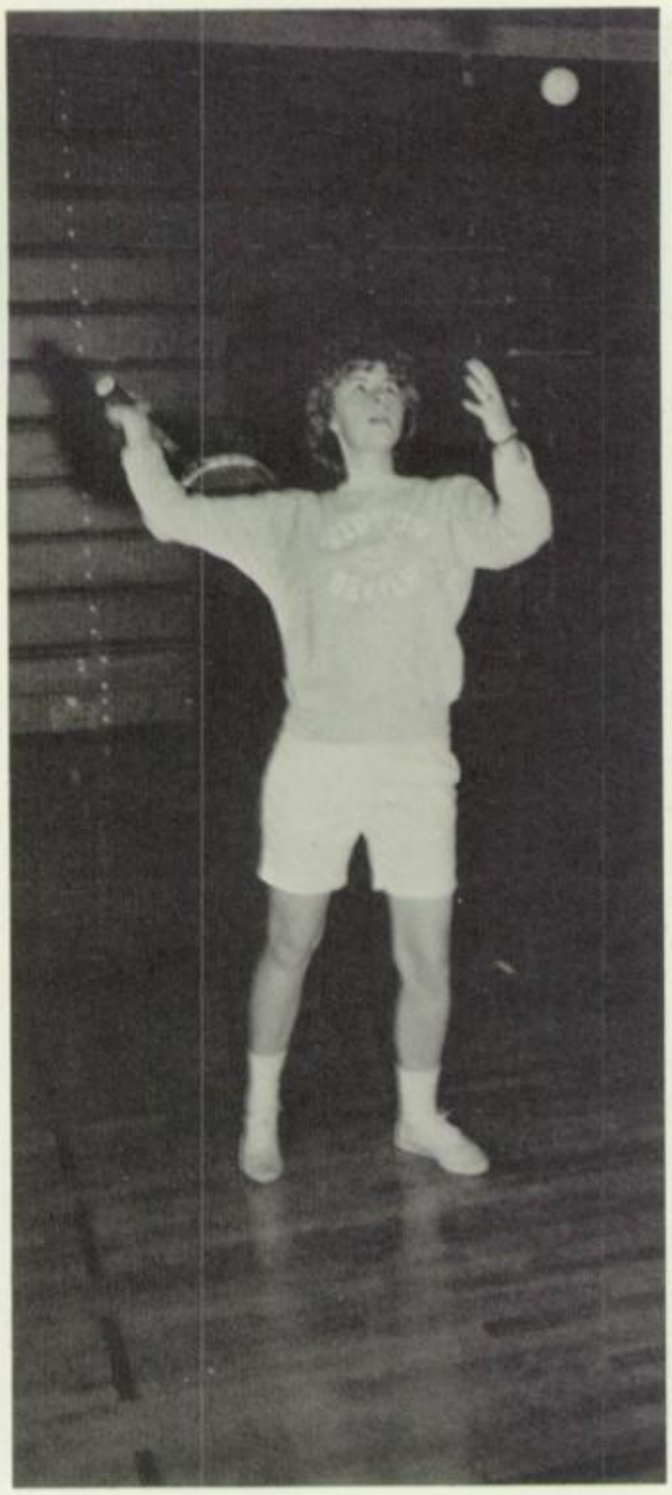
GIRLS STRIVE FOR SPORTS SKILLS

Two more points are scored in girls' roundball.

Participation in various sports by the girls of T.H.S. is an important, but often overlooked activity. Dancing, especially the twist and line dances, provide a favorite pastime for many girls.

Others, more athletically inclined, enjoy the recreation of such sports as tennis, bowling, volley ball, and archery.

In an age of great technological advances with more emphasis being placed on science and mathematics, we must remember that health and recreation can never be ignored if our schools are to turn out well balanced individuals ready to meet the demands of a changing world.



Correct serving form is practiced by Janice Booher.

Concentration, as shown by Nancy Pore, is the key to good bowling.

One more point is added as Lynn DeVault successfully reaches high for a net ball.

Sharp-eye, Andy Barrum, strives for perfection in marksmanship.

Our teachers will remember us for extraordinary willingness to apply our selves to our work.

We'll always be proud of the record we set in the magazines sale.

We'll always be proud of our classmate who, as a Junior, was named the outstanding basketball player in the Central Indiana Conference. We'll remember the 1962 football team, the co-champions of our conference. And who will ever forget the miracle finish of the game with Noblesville?

We remember that we were the only class to spend half our high school years in the old building and half in the new. As the half and half class, we'll consider ourselves the cream of the crop.

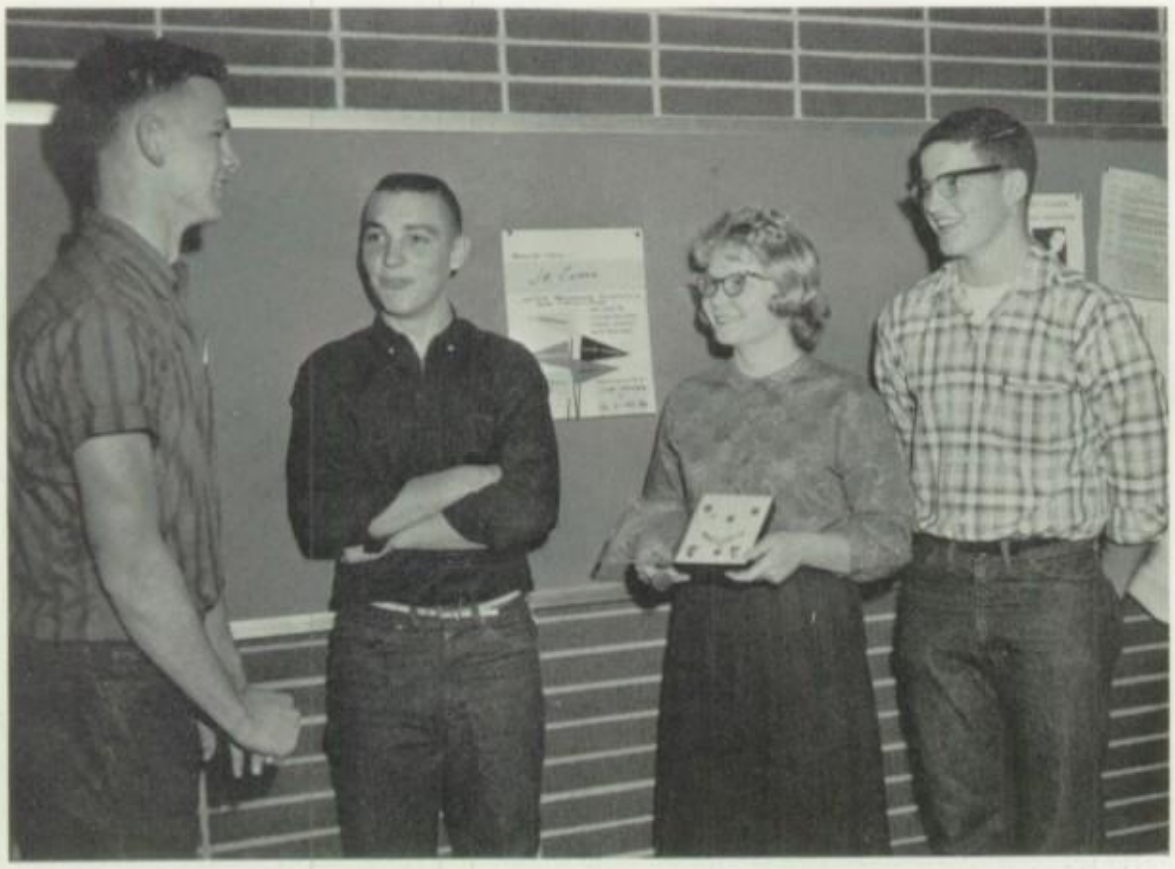
SENIORS ENJOY FINAL YEAR AT T.H.S.

"Whaddaya mean, censored?"

College plans and applications are completed for JoAnn Meyer with the assistance of Mrs. Moore.

"Gee, am I glad those magazine sales are over," sighs class president, Don Havens.



Discussing the Junior Class jewelry sale are Harvey Harmon, Treas; Jim Powell, V. Pres.; Linda Osborn, Sec.; and Mike Hoover, Pres.

JUNIORS ARE ACTIVE DURING BUSIEST YEAR

In the fall the Junior Class began to feel like upperclassmen for the first time when they received their class rings. This year the rings were very attractive and the class was very proud to wear them.

Several projects were undertaken during the year. The Junior float in the Homecoming Parade, "Blast the Stripes Off Those Zebras," received second prize in the contest for its originality. Working very diligently selling refreshments at all the basketball and football games, the Juniors grossed a large profit. The traditional Junior-Senior Prom summoned the imagination and talents of all the members of the class. As the Tiptonian went to press, all upperclassmen were looking forward to this event, which we're sure will be one of the greatest in Tipton High School History.

The class of 1964 is very proud of its class rings which, they think, are the greatest.

Juniors work diligently, selling at all home ballgames, to increase their funds for the prom.

SOPHOMORES WORK TOWARD HIGHER GOALS

With the freshmen year under their belt, the Sophomore Class, which is the largest at Tipton High School, was onto the ropes and eager to start an active year. Even though this year is not considered an outstanding year, the Sophomores made themselves known.

Their first success was winning first prize in the Homecoming Parade with their clever float "History Repeats Itself."

The selection of the class ring and sweater were two big decisions made by the Sophomores this year. Thus a feeling of anxiety is expressed by many for their arrival.

To help their finances along, the Sophomores sponsored a dance after the Elwood game and sold candy in the cafeteria. This class has successively completed another step in their climb to the top.

Freshman class officers, Lynn Lightfoot, Pres.; Lois Lambert, Sec.; Lenny Tragesser, Treas.; Denny Murray, V. Pres., help earn money by selling cookies and fudge.

ACTIVE LIFE OF HIGH SCHOOL EXCITES FROSH

Having become official students of T.H.S. with the harrowing ordeal of initiation, the Freshmen eagerly began their high school careers and became familiar with the regulations, customs and activities of Tipton High.

During football and basketball seasons the Freshmen avidly supported their teams and participated in the Homecoming activities by entering a float in the annual parade.

Perhaps their accomplishments so far are few and their goals may seem far away, but give them time, give them time . . .

Connie Netherton and Harry Smith find that opening lockers isn't always easy.

JR. HIGH PROUDLY DISPLAYS ITS SCHOOL FOR

The Junior High students, under the leadership of Mr. Underwood, principal, and fourteen assisting members of the faculty, have been busy this year doing their regular academic work and participating in some extra-curricular activities.

Student Council has been an active organization within the school. The council has sponsored three all student parties, arranged convocation programs, provided Christmas decorations for the study hall during the month of December, and sold refreshments at all their ball-games.

"What, no boys?" wondered photographer John Lane, as he snaped a picture of one of the Junior High parties.

JUNIOR HIGH BAND

BAND ENTERTAINS AS CHEERLEADERS ENTHUSE

The future stars of Tipton High School begin to achieve eminence at the junior high level. The Jr. High has its own program of inter-school sports, participating in football, basketball, and track. The cheerblock and cheerleaders do their part to build up and maintain school spirit.

A highlight of the basketball season was the victory over the Elwood Panthers. The junior high band played at many of the games and participated with the high school band in a gala program closing the football season.

JR HIGH CHEERLEADERS: Jody Meeks, Susie Fletcher, Jan Lewis, Diane Phillips.
